

OneOp Monthly Newsletter

JULY 2026

Upcoming Programming

 July 7th, 2026

Military Consumer Protection in Action: Tools and Tactics for Service Providers

Identify the most common tactics scammers use to target service members, veterans, and military families to steal money or personal information.

 July 9th, 2026

Launching Teens for Life After High School

Uncover strategies to support youth with disabilities to prepare for post-school employment, post-secondary education, and independent living.

 July 21st, 2026

Partnering for Impact Through Food is Medicine

Explore key strategies for building and sustaining partnerships between healthcare providers and community-based organizations.

 July 23rd, 2026

Navigating Grief: Strategies for Service Providers After Client Loss

Discover supportive practices such as supervision, peer consultation, and organizational resources that promote recovery.

 July 28th, 2026

Transitions, Connection, and Young Adult Well-Being

Gain strategies for helping young adults strengthen mental health skills and access supportive resources during postsecondary transitions.

A 360 View of the Spouse Employment Environment

This course is an applied, interactive learning opportunity providing a foundation for military and civilian service providers. Participants will gain a clear understanding of who military spouses are and the barriers that impact career continuity — including relocation cycles, licensure portability, childcare access, and policy considerations.

With that foundation in place, participants will build a practical toolkit for identifying spouse needs, responding with a strengths-based approach, and making informed referrals that improve employment stability and long-term career outcomes.

Learning Objectives

After engaging in this course, learners will be able to:

- Identify common barriers that military spouses face when seeking and maintaining employment.
- Describe employer policies and workplace actions that can promote spouse employment, hiring, and retention.
- Recognize prominent policies that influence military spouse employment and address common misconceptions.
- Summarize key Department of War and civilian programs that support military spouse employment.
- Connect military spouses experiencing unemployment or underemployment to appropriate support services.

ENROLL IN THIS COURSE

On-Demand Programming

Ethics in Action: Applying Ethical Standards in Financial Counseling

Learn ethical requirements related to financial disclosures, conflicts of interest, and more.

Nutrition Accommodations in IEPs and 504 Plans for All Students

Identify common health conditions that may require nutrition-related accommodation.

Foundations of Trust & Collaboration Podcast Learning Bundle

Reflect on capabilities to identify strengths, limits, and opportunities for support.

Focused Programming: Courses

Summer is a busy time, it can be hard to find the availability for professional development. OneOp provides a solution. Our asynchronous courses can be completed at any time and in any season! With two brand-new courses recently launched and one revised, there is an opportunity to learn for everyone.

Topics include:

AUTISM

This course builds service providers' understanding of autism in early childhood and equips them with family-centered strategies for supporting families across home, community, and educational settings.

REGISTER

CHILDHOOD TRAUMA

This course includes four units that cover the prevalence and impact of trauma, the manifestation of trauma in young children, providing trauma-informed supports, and preventing future trauma.

REGISTER

SPOUSE EMPLOYMENT

This course is designed to help service providers level up in their roles, strengthen systems awareness, and approach military spouse employment work with clarity, confidence, and a strengths-based mindset.

REGISTER

School Liaisons and Extension: A Network of Support for Military Youth

When military kids move, their whole world shifts—schools, friends, routines, and support systems.

In this episode of Practicing Connection, school liaisons share how they work together across military and civilian systems to make sure those kids don't fall through the cracks.

You'll hear concrete ideas for connecting with school liaisons and 4-H in your own area.

LISTEN NOW